REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Feb. 1.—The London market was somewhat flat and steady all day.

American stocks closed about parity.

The general market was fairly firm, while com-stocks were 3-5 better on the day.

The Bank of England did not change its rate, and its return shows that the proportion of reserves to liabilities has further increased, with a larger amount of bullion in the bank.

Money conditions are regarded as favorable, both there and on the Continent. Foreign currencies steady. The price of bar silver continues to advance, being quoted at 24¢.

The strength of steel stocks was again the feature of the New York market, and there was a particularly sensational advance in Tennessee Coal and Iron.

The company is now in a position to pay the back dividends on the preferred stock, and is earning 10 per cent on the common. Other steel stocks were up, and it was reported that a strong bull trend had been formed to operate in them. Some of the members have large interests elsewhere, notably in Atchison. There was a further collapse in Third Avenue, which was at one time quoted as low as 28.
